

Episode 81 - Is the woman the most impure being?

Welcome to Restart. We are done with the false choice between religious and non-religious governments. Politicians say, "Religions, step aside so we can plunder." Religious leaders say, "Politicians, step aside so we can plunder." We say: to hell with both of you. This episode unveils the radical and futuristic laws of the Empire of Sufism—a system of governance the world won't be ready for for another 500 years.

Discover one of its foundational laws: a mandatory government-paid salary for all women who work in the home, a cure for societal decay before it begins. We explore the true, ancient meaning of Sufism, tracing its roots back beyond Islam to Plato and Buddha.

Finally, we continue our journey through Rumi's cosmic poem, exploring the creation of the celestial sphere, the nature of vision beyond the physical eye, and how the "devil" is born at the moment of maturity. The path to true sovereignty is not political; it is through finding the Complete Human.

The Complete Human, Sovereignty, and Sufism

"Many opposition figures come along and say, 'Hosseini, these people don't understand anything, you keep quiet, and when the regime is gone and we return to Iran, we'll talk!'

Number one: No, I am the spy of the Iranian nation.

Number two: Please state the form of your government; I want to explain it to millions of Restart followers .

Number three: Please state where you are deriving your constitution from.

Number four: We demand the return of the Great sufi, Cyrus. We are pursuing the Empire of Sufism. We no longer want a religious government or a non-religious government. Welcome to eighty-one, Restart.

Why are women the most unclean beings among the non-religious and the religious? Welcome to Restart.

Well, Restart has reached 81. This week is the week of helping the radio, and I'd like to mention that the companions of our programs on Radio Pasto are asking for help after 13 months.

Anyway, Radio Pasto also runs into problems. Please take action, and if you are able to give $50, don't give $30, give the maximum you can and help the radio until the 15th of the month.

Let's see what aid you provide. And if a nation can't keep a broken-down radio afloat, that's truly comedic.

It's better for the regime leaders to stay and for us all to see the plundering of the country together.

In any case, I started with a very important point because today we are going to talk about a small point concerning the secular and then move on to our main program. The laws of the People of Sufism, meaning Mysticism and Sufism, meaning the Empire of Sufism, are explained more in Restart. This is because we all know Restart has 20 million or even over 40 million listeners, but the (Shab Bekheyr iran) are still ten or twelve million. Ten million is a very large number. That's why I always explain things in the first few minutes. Please note: We no longer want a religious government. We don't want a non-religious government. My dear, one of the tricks they're pulling right now—of course, some religions are also spending huge amounts of money to inject a new religious government into society under the guise of secularism. What does secularism even mean? There are 81 programs in Restart. We say the non-religious and the religious are all the same. We have explained that all of Islam, Christianity, and so on are up in the air—except for Jesus. A new definition for Jesus has come up in Restart. We say, generally, two groups are big thieves. Number one: Governments, meaning politicians, have been the biggest thieves in history until now. The Islamic Republic is a political government, hand in hand with religious fanatics. You are currently seeing its Islamic aspect, many of whom are actually Russians, meaning they don't believe in God. It's not important right now.

We are generally saying this: We don't want a religious government. We don't want a non-religious government. We are actually fleeing from you politicians. Then you come along and say you're secular, meaning the separation of the institution of religion from the institution of politics. You're very funny; it's as if you've never listened to Restart. You need to listen from the beginning again. I'll explain it in one line: Politicians say, 'Hey, religions, step aside, so we can eat the money.' That's their whole point: separation of the institution of religion from the institution of politics. They say, 'We politicians will sit and eat the money.' What do the religious say? What does a religious government say? A religious government says the separation of the institution of politics from religion. 'Our piety is our very politics.' That's what they say. And what do they say? They say, 'Hey, politicians should leave, and we will plunder the people according to the principles of Christianity, Zoroastrianism, Muslim, and so on.'

What do we say? We say the separation of the institution of religion from the institution of politics, meaning women on one side, men on the other. We don't want either of you. How do we have to say it, that the politicians' faces and the religions and their fanatics can go to hell? We say everyone must speak. Right now, in the old days, before the Islamic Republic, there was a government that the world called secular. Secularism produced the system of the Islamic Republic. It's that simple. This time, we say to the politicians, look at England and other countries; all of them are eating the people's money. They all have money, always have money. All politicians have money, yet poverty, misery, and destitution still exist in Iranian society, in English society, in societies around the world.

Just like the Zoroastrian priests, a politician will never allow a non-politician to enter and take over the government. Why? Because he himself is eating, enjoying himself; his children must become politicians, and that's why they say the nations are cows. 'We politicians understand a lot,' and they haven't been able to change the regime for 39 years. Now that Restart has come and declared that we will change it, everyone attacks. This is very interesting. Not everyone, of course, there are 3-4 tiny opposition figures; they are not that important. Now, why am I saying all this? Because today I want to reveal a secret to you, so you know, my dear. May I be sacrificed for your beautiful face. If I were to explain all the laws of the Empire of Sufism here, the world would decide to kill 80 million Iranians. So everyone can be at ease.

If we were to explain the contents of the laws of Sufism, meaning the Empire of Sufism and Mysticism, rest assured they would bring down hell upon all of us. This concealed talk today is for you to understand the subject. I will mention one of the laws to explain it so you and I understand that if the whole world hears this law, it will become convinced that killing Iranians is in their favor. Just as this happened during the time of Cyrus. They say 'Cyrus, Cyrus, the Great sufi,' and attach him to themselves in their minds, but they know nothing of the laws of Cyrus. This law I'm about to mention was present both during the time of Cyrus and during the short period of Shah Isma'il I Safavi. Why did books against Shah Isma'il I Safavi come out? Because Shah Isma'il I Safavi declared that every house must have a weapon, must have a sword. He declared that if there is no sword in the house, governments will become dictatorships. You, too—meaning, if the Iranian nation had weapons, do you think a person, like a member of a religious army, could come and speak out of turn? No, he couldn't! Everyone would fear you. They would say Iranians have weapons. That's why the laws of Cyrus were the same. No one has this in their constitution. Look, I told you last time that 30%, 35% of American laws are Sūfi. Remember, those poor souls also, back then—about 150 years ago—didn't have the book of Sufism and Mysticism in their hands to write from! There were one or two people among them, as you say, go look and see what Abraham Lincoln's religion was. You won't find it. It's nowhere, because no one wants to say what their religion is.

It's an important point. Anyway, I don't care. They put some things in. It took 150 years for them to realize that these sufi laws—not that they stole them, they liked them, they used them—were corrected with amendments. Meaning, the US Constitution now is 30, 35 percent similar to Sufism, not 150 years ago. 100 years ago, 15 percent was similar to Sufism. But when the Empire of Sufism comes, it explains laws that the world will reach 500 years later. I want to mention just one of them today, so you understand how much the level of knowledge and understanding of the laws of the Empire of Sufism is ahead of the world. I only want to mention one today, just so you know, when someone speaks, you can stand up to them.

You, as a Restart follower, the reality is that laws have been established in the world, for example, in foreign countries now, they say children under 21 do not have the right to be sold alcohol, cigarettes, or drugs. We are beyond that. We say that below the age of maturity, below 18, or below 21 (when one reaches the age of maturity), they cannot even go to church.

Meaning, we consider the church, the synagogue, and the mosque to be the same as a gambling house. See how far ahead we are. We say religion is a divine religion, and that's why a child must first reach maturity. Forcing any child to perform prostration and bowing with a beating from the age of four will turn them into the same fanatic who opposes Restart now. It will turn them into the same fanatic who thinks they have to strap something to themselves, explode in the middle, and then it's good for them in paradise!

Look, there is a law in the world now, but the law that the Empire of Sufism wants to introduce is much bigger, more comprehensive, more scientific, more knowledgeable, more understanding than the world's, and 500 years from now the world will say, 'Restart was right.' No one has the right to encourage a child below the age of maturity toward a religion. This is a crime and an intrusion into the child's mental space, and the child must choose their own religion. The religion of the parents is an oppression on the child, taking them to church with a beating. So, above the entrance of the tavern, and above the entrance of the church, synagogue, mosque, and the Zoroastrian Moberdān, or whatever group exists, it will be written: Entry for children under eighteen is forbidden. Just as someone who sells cigarettes to a child under eighteen gets sealed up, we will also seal up that mosque. Look at the laws. Schools will not have religious education books.

Religion must have a license from God. If a father and mother bring a license from God, and I see their signature, we will approve for them to tell their child to pray or go to church. Note, this is a law. We have also explained many other laws in this space, meaning we have said that even the fundamental laws of America, which are now close to 35%, and Japan, which is 20%. The rest of the countries are generally below 5%; they are truly up in the air. Meaning they need to come take a course. They know nothing about laws. But the laws of Cyrus, the laws of the People of Sufism. There are other things. For example, look: in religions, they say a woman is sick, ill. They call those few days of menstruation illness. In Sufism, this is an honor, not an illness. This phrase in religions is exactly so ridiculous, it's like saying, 'Oh, men have mustaches; the poor things are sick.' You see women don't have mustaches. It's exactly like feminism. 'You see men have mustaches, they are sick!' A mustache is a symbol of men, and what women have is coincidentally an honor, meaning it's the structure of their creation. That's why this illness that religions speak of is not only rejected by the People of Sufism, but they consider it an honor, and they tell women that the path to God is not with these illnesses that they speak of. This is not illness; this is the beautiful existence of your creation. Just like the mustache I have, I shave it if I want, I don't if I want. You want to postpone those few days, or bring them forward. It's up to you.

In Sufism, taking two wives is forbidden. The Empire of Sufism does not permit marriage to two women. Temporary marriage is even worse. But Sufism has a saying: "I am satisfied, you are satisfied, to hell with the judge." It says these are personal matters.

A girl and a boy love each other, 'I've taken her hand, I want to go to the cinema.' Well, let them go, it's great. They get to know each other, talk, chat. I want to tell you, all of this is important! You cannot marry two women and crush the woman. You have a wife; the woman's essence, her feelings, and her personality are affected. You cut them in half. Man, you have one bank account yourself, you aren't willing to share it with me. Then when you have a wife, you go and marry another woman, to share? How? Whatever happened in the past is over; we don't care about that anymore. When the Empire of Sufism comes, marriage to two women is forbidden, meaning it's forbidden, and we will bring down hell upon them. Or terms like temporary marriage and so on, Sufism has been against them from the beginning. It has been against these things from the beginning. First of all, the word sifi and Sufism are not from now.

Some uneducated people might try to link it to Islam, or after Islam. Certainly, laugh at them, my dear! Look, just so you know, or ilia son of emran.or your Ali son of abi talib ' (first Imām of Shia)—there was no Sufism during that era. If it were after Islam, then there shouldn't have been a sufi during the time of Muhammad. But they ask him what a sufi means. He lays down twelve traits: four traits for the letter (ص), four for the letter (و), four for the letter (ف), and four for the letter (س). If someone has these twelve traits, they are a sufi.

Sufi comes from (quality/trait), meaning you must pass through(purification/filter). This itself shows that in the era of ilia son of 'Emrān, right at the beginning of Islam, everyone knew what sufi meant. Why? Because Salman the Persian (Salmān-e Fārstī) was a sufi, meaning he knew the Complete Human from before.

Now, the Zoroastrian Mobedān are cursing. Well, it's logical. Not just the Zoroastrians; Muslims, everyone unfortunately has a problem with Restart right now. But a Christian doesn't have a problem. What does a Christian say? He says, 'Man, this Hosseini is saying something about Jesus that we've never heard.' Hosseini says the whole world is in Jesus. The path to salvation is through Jesus. But it's not the path to salvation that they speak of. Like the pressure of the grave. What is the pressure of the grave? You go into the grave, and pressure comes upon you!!! Man, talk scientifically. Does the dirt move? Does it press on someone? Why so many lies? He jumps out of the grave and hits his head there. If he jumps, then we are all murderers. How foolish are we, the people of the world, to say that someone who is dead jumps up, wakes up, hits their head, and goes back? Well, at least leave the grave door open. If he wakes up, let him wake up and go to his wife and kids. Why should he die again? Jokes, superstitions, ridiculous things that don't belong to Islam, but have stood against the Empire of Sufism and Mysticism for a hundred thousand years.

Now, today I want to reveal that secret. Because I explained it briefly once, but I didn't open it up. I'll open it up so you can see that if the Empire of Sufism and Mysticism comes, its constitution must be written, like schools; the laws must be written from the beginning, and holidays... Oh, it's so bad. For example, if there are 50,000 people of a certain segment in any country, they must have a holiday in the parliament. That is, in the Empire of Sufism. The first day of the month of Moharram will be a holiday for Sunnīs. Christmas Day will be a holiday. Holidays will be changed entirely. It's so bad. This guy hits his head or beats his chest. Then we ask why. He says that not only does he disrespect and not give a holiday for the first day of Moharram for Sunnīs, for example, but he also curses.

Mourning is forbidden in Sufism. Now, if you cry for your deceased mother for 3 days, 2 days, that's logical. But if you hold an anniversary for your mother every night, you're truly mentally ill, and we should take you to a doctor. All religions have a holiday. Even the Dervishes in Iran can have 3 days off; these will be holidays. Has any Dervish ever been in power during this time? That you want to separate all Unitarianists from Restart? I kiss the hands of all Unitarianists. I kiss the hand of anyone who is a Unitarianist. It sows discord. Did you see? Are we all together? No, no,

We even have an army in Iran! We have an army that you don't know about, and you should know...

Pay attention: cure before the occurrence of the incident. And now I want to mention one of the laws of the Empire of Sufism.

Before I explain this, I am mentioning some points that are very important and also related to Restart. Look, if a few simple things were done in Iran now, the Iranian government couldn't steal. A few simple things that I suggest, the government cannot steal. For the government not to steal again in the future, you must include these things I mention in the constitution, otherwise, everything is up in the air again, my dear! A young person in Iran who is unemployed, his salary is the responsibility of the government, my dear. Because the damned and uneducated government could not provide jobs for its people. My dear, if the money is to be given to the Iranian youth, it can't be given to Lebanon, understand? You don't understand. If I wasn't here, and this wasn't in the new constitution, know that something has been injected into you. I am speaking so politely.

If Sufism, the Empire of Sufism, the constitution of Saadi and Rumi and the Great sufi Cyrus wasn't in it, it's all over. For example, I want to mention a law that England cannot comply with. The world is 500 years behind regarding this law I'm about to mention. In Sufism, the Empire of Sufism is obliged to pay women who stay at home one-third of the common salary of the society. If the women of England understand this sentence now, they will revolt. So, that's why England opposes the Empire of Sufism. The world opposes it. That is, tomorrow when the Empire of Sufism is established, all women who are at home must be paid one-third of the common salary of the society by the government, not their husband. If the monthly salary of a woman who goes out to work is two thousand dollars, the government must pay one-third of it, after deducting tax, of course... Why? Because Sufism says: cure before the occurrence of the incident. Look, Sufism has four or five gods: Number one: Hu, Number two: Allah. who is the Complete Human. These are mystical, sufi, internal, and heartfelt. In the material world, three more gods are added. The God of the parents, they become God. The God of the teacher, he becomes God. The guide, any guide, anyone who teaches in the country, a university professor, anything, becomes a teacher. Number three: The God of nature, meaning knowledge, meaning respect for nature is law. One of the ten principles of the country's constitution is that it should be cured before the occurrence of the incident. That is, when a woman in the family is constantly not paid a salary in her home, she raises a child. The child outside, the woman is forced to go somewhere at night. That child will become a thief, smuggler, and addict tomorrow. The government of the Empire of Sufism will have to spend millions of dollars on this person to bring them back. This is if they don't corrupt society, or kill people, or commit theft and robbery. That's why in a family with a child, the mother who is at home washing dishes or childcare must be paid a salary from the start. Why? Because the child belongs to the government, the child belongs to the nation, that child belongs to society.

That child is part of the collective intellect. That child does not belong to the mother. Just as we tell the mother you cannot teach them to pray, they must reach the age of maturity. Similarly, the Empire of Sufism says: My mother, respected lady, dear lady, you are sitting at home and delivering this child to my society. You are delivering the child to me to become a professor, to understand "if one organ is in pain, the whole world is in pain" (from Saadi), and become a dentist and be able to fix someone else's tooth. That's why society is obliged to pay Iranian women a salary. Well, assume the Empire of Sufism is established tomorrow, and we are paying salaries to women. One-third of the common salary of society. All the women of England will rise up. They will say it's the correct law!

Who are we working for at home? Why should I wash dishes? Who said I have to wash dishes? Who said I have to earn a thousand dollars, my husband earns a thousand dollars, and we live like animals? Don't you say the creation is the child? Don't you say the child is the most important element of the universe? I am doing the greatest work for society. This is one of the very simple issues. If anyone's constitution doesn't have it, kick the constitution out with a shoe! Salary is mandatory . The Empire of Sufism considers salary mandatory. Dear listener, salary is mandatory. A man who is unemployed, his health insurance is mandatory. The government must help him until he gets a job. It is mandatory. Why? Because of the unemployed man, the wife is forced to do some things to earn money, and corruption comes. The orphan child is wandering at home, mom here, dad there. Depressed dad, smoking opium, getting into drugs. Then the government has to spend millions of dollars, as you see in society now, to save them.

Before they reach that state, the money must be paid. Well, now I have a question for you. Imagine Iranian society has about 40 million women now. If these respected women receive salaries, do you think any money will be left for Lebanon? If schools are forced to give breakfast to children, will any money be left for Lebanon? A child must drink milk and have breakfast at school. One of the school's tasks is breakfast for the children. One of the specialties of the school is breakfast. Meaning only the teacher can come and sit and have breakfast with the children. This itself is love. It's breakfast, fellow countryman. Breakfast is one of the main principles of the school. Why? Because maybe someone's mother was sick and couldn't make food. If this child doesn't eat, they get a headache, with a headache, they get sick. A thousand problems. So, it has many laws.

Well, what do you think their constitution is now? What do you think the constitutions they are writing are? It's all about the margins. The main issue—it destroys the Family Law. That is, the law for a single girl must be different from a married girl. The married one must be treated so well that the single girl goes and gets married. You must make her happy so she goes and gets married. She should be rewarded and many other things that are in this, like weapons, like the holidays I mentioned. Like mourning is forbidden. Like the church, synagogue, and mosque are the same as the bar, gambling house, and cigarette shop from the perspective of Sufism, and they are no different. Because none of them have a license from God. We gave a license to the cigarette seller, but not to these.

Since secularism is one of our members, meaning a small party in the space of the Empire of Sufism, we are obliged to respect it, and our law is that all religions must speak. All atheists must speak, like gays and lesbians, it makes no difference. What is a gay person? It means that's how their creation is. Anything that is created is dear. "Whoever enters the door, give them bread. Do not ask about their faith. For whoever is worthy of a place, is worthy of bread." Just because they are born, it is our duty as a government to take care of them and kiss their hand. These are sufi laws. And there are many other things that I don't want to talk about.

Sufism and sufi, the word comes from purity and sincerity. Now, just so you know, I'll tell you four sentences.

Edward Browne traces Sufism back to the era and says the root of the word Sufism is Iranian. In Arabic, it only means wool. Note that the beliefs of Sufism go back to Buddha. See, we went back. It says the word sufi and Sufism are Iranian creations. Well, of course, they are Iranian creations. Abraham, who is the same as Zoroaster, who was Iranian, of course, Sufism had to come into being. In fact, Sufism and Mysticism are the only segments that are against religions and against atheists. Not in a fighting way. They say that if we speak, like Restart is speaking now, the intellect is stirred, society is stirred, and whether you like it or not, the regime will change. When they understand, they understand. You can't pull understanding out of them, you can't inject them with an 'injection of non-understanding'. It's that simple.

It belongs to Buddhism. Now, I don't care about written books, Vedānta or anything...

Now, everyone, MacDonald, Max, Pascālieu, Nicholson, and so on, all say that the word sufi actually started with Plato. See, so we went back. Don't listen to this propaganda. Sufism and Mysticism have existed for a hundred thousand years. Now, you don't understand the difference between Mysticism and Sufi, I don't understand. Rest assured you and I understand nothing about Sufism and Mysticism. This word Sufism and Mysticism, just so you know, the Gnostic is very close. But if you ask a Sufi the difference between a Gnostic and a Sufi, he says: The Gnostic knows where your house is, which street, which alley, how many bedrooms, how many bathrooms, how many kitchens. A Sūfī is called the one who is in that house. Example: A Gnostic knows how many times one must circle the Kaaba.

How the Kaaba is, this and that. The Sufi is the Owner of the Kaaba. The Gnostic knows where the mosque is, what they must do, where to pray, and to what. The Sufi is the Qibla of that person. The whole subject is completely different. That's why the Gnostic and the Sufi are so close in Sufism that it's impossible to even talk about it. That's why Sufi is an Iranian word. Its antiquity is about a hundred thousand years old. Its written documentation is four thousand-something years old. The written laws.

For example, Cyrus the Great, the Great Sufi, paid salaries to all women. If you didn't know this, know it now. All women who were at home had salaries. Of course, some say one-fourth, and some say one-third. It doesn't matter. These fundamental laws of the Great Sufi Cyrus are in the hands of the People of Sufism and Mysticism. They are not like those who have taken all of history for themselves and sat and written it! That's why when the Empire of Sufism is produced, we want to advance people even mentally by ninety, a hundred years. Certainly, we will be much more advanced in terms of human perspective, even than America, it's logical. I swear on Hosseini's life if Restart had been broadcast 150 years ago, we would all have a house on Mars right now, with these Americans, who wrote based on the Sufi perspective. If Restart had been broadcast for Americans 150 years ago.

Poor things, even though they didn't know anything, because of two sensible people who were among them from the beginning, they wrote the laws of their country similar to England! They wrote them similar to themselves. That's why anyone who talks about the constitution in Iran, tell them to only talk to Hosseini.

Woman in the status of Sufism means Sūfī and has a very high value.

And there was a Great Sufi whose feet were kissed by prophets, and they considered it the kohl for their eyes. Number one, the wife of Pharaoh. Who is Pharaoh? He is the Iranian who started the massacre of the Jews by the Zoroastrian Mobedan. Moses was sent by the Complete Human to save the Jews from the Iranians, the Zoroastrian Mobedan. They say 27,000 children were killed in one night so Moses would not be born. All these religions reach power. They will bring down hell upon you, my dear. They will bring down hell upon you. Atheists are worse. Secularists who say religions should step aside, give all the money to us. Separation of the institution of religion. Meaning, it should go out, religions should go out, and give the money to us, so we can eat it together. That became secular.

And I said last time that anyone in the world who talks about secularism on any major news network, I am their servant. I am at your service so people should understand the fundamental laws. Because this time is different. Let's go to the poem:

"If the breath of the lover's soul is let loose,
It shall set this world ablaze with fire,
And this baseless world,
Like atoms, it shall scatter."

"The entire world shall turn into a sea,
The sea, from its awe, shall become naught,
Neither world nor man shall remain,

If one's self becomes one with the world."

This itself is a secret that will be revealed after 100. See what happens. I'm not saying anything about myself. It's Rumi, Saadi, Hafez, Ferdowsi, Plato and Socrates and so on. It belongs to Goethe. My dear. We don't have a past and future.

"Smoke shall rise from the celestial sphere,
Neither creation shall remain nor angel."

So he cast the angel into the air. Pay attention. Suppose 500 years ago you told the people of the world, 'Man, we have an angel called the acceleration of gravity.' They would mock you and say, 'Where is it? Show me!'

We have intermolecular forces; it is an angel; we don't see it. It is in another world. Somewhere else in this very world. So we also have two worlds, the angel and the celestial kingdom. Now we can talk about the world. He says: "Smoke shall rise from the celestial sphere." So the fate of the celestial sphere is known. Now it has become the celestial sphere. The celestial sphere means there is another place. Pay attention, when we come out of the bubbles and return to the sea. There is a sky above the sea. This itself is a very important point, like the eye. Look, the eye, so I can see you, or you can watch a TV program. Look, where did the eye come from? You see basil growing by your house. The eye was in your mother's womb, from the father's seed. The eye started from there. Look, the eye existed, it came, it came, it came. The baby in the mother's womb had an eye. Now, what characteristic does this eye have? It is not self-seeing. The only being in the world that is not self-seeing is the eye. It doesn't see itself, the eye doesn't see itself, but it sees everything. This shows that you should not be self-seeing, think you are a big shot, and think that a country is in your hands and you can kill and strike anyone you deem fit! This means self-seeing...

When you die, you enter a world that no longer has air. The dimensions are different. Time completely goes up in the air. Your nose has an eye, your ear has an eye, your lip has an eye. When you want to kiss your beloved, your lip has love, your eye has love, your ear has love. The eye of the baby in the mother's womb sees a sky with that small hole. Halfway. It comes out and what does it see?!!! The more the child's Mysticism and Sufism increases, the more gradually they recognize the real world. When they recognize the real world, they finally understand that whatever was in the mother's womb, throw it in the trash can. New things enter the person's hypothalamus of the brain. Their vision is different. When they die, their vision gets even better, meaning they see better. So, seeing is constantly progressing.

We are from above and go above, meaning the eye. The eye that is in your face, look, "Where did it come from and where does it go? Finally, you do not show my homeland". It says there means where. That is, when the universe's Big Bang explodes, it ends, it returns to the sea. When it returned to the sea, "Smoke shall rise from the celestial sphere. Neither creation shall remain, nor angel."

"From that smoke, a fire shall suddenly strike the greatest dome."

So a dome was created again. Meaning a new thing was created there again. It's very interesting. That is, I ate basil. The basil's intellect was entirely about being careful not to be eaten by a dog. It thought its progress was to grow, to get tall. Now talk to the basil, go to your house and talk to the chives, talk to the cress, talk to the dill. Ask the dill, who you are? What is your peak? It says, if I can grow and get big. I am small now, if I get big, if I grow in the dirt, I will understand many things. But the foolish basil doesn't know that when it grows, it becomes the food of a being that turns into understanding, turns into logic, turns into thought, turns into knowledge, and turns into wisdom. This very thing that I don't know now, that everything I am doing is reaching intellect and thought through a being called the Complete Human. That is, the Complete Human is this Hosseini, and you and I are like the basil that doesn't understand. The baby in the mother's womb is also like that; it doesn't know why the Complete Human is producing and raising it! Then we see that when it grows up and comes out of the mother's womb and walks, it still thinks its God is its parents! Truly, now ask a four-year-old child, 'Will you be upset if there is no milk tomorrow?' They don't even know it's possible for there to be no milk tomorrow! Because they think there is always milk! But gradually they grow up and see that the other person also has a car, and they understand the difference between someone else having a car and them not having one, and this means the devil has grown within them. So when was the devil produced? It wasn't in me when I was born. At that time, our God was a father and mother. We don't even know what's going on.

When I understand that this girl is more beautiful than the other girl, or this food is tastier than the other food, or this house is better than the other house, then my God becomes something other than my parents. That's when I curse my parents. Why? Because now my God has become a car, the neighbor's daughter, money, and a restaurant, and... the number of my gods has increased. So when the devil comes, the number of my gods increases!

All these mirrors lead you to a death where you finally understand (لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ), there is no god but Allah. That's when you finally understand that your mother and father are also up in the air.

We are thinking together. We are launching our collective intellect and thinking together.

I don't care about all the stories of these religions and God and prophethood, we like them too, and they come and promote themselves, just like Restart is broadcasting now and many people have become Restart followers , don't be upset, Zoroastrian or Christian!

Now, this real Jesus is being shown.

So what happened? So we have an outlook. The same in the mother's womb and behind the father, and keep going back, and then you understand what's going on. Because it's simple on that side, it's completely clear on that side.

And this talk of the pressure of the grave and then hell or paradise where(celestial maidens) come and dance for you, these are all jokes. And the further we go, Restart gradually opens up the subject, and you understand. So the devil is produced at the moment of maturity . That's why you can't bring someone who hasn't reached maturity into the church, because when we bring them into the church, it becomes a habit , and there is no devil within them. This child is pure. We get them involved in a movement of constantly bending and straightening, like praying, which creates fanaticism.

If a man's market of the devil is produced in him, if he understands what a beautiful girl means, if he understands what becoming rich means, if he understands the difference between pizza and bread and cheese. And when he understands, then tell him, 'Now you must pray.' And then we see he says, 'I don't know.' He clings to money and says, 'What are these words?'

Ferdowsi says he must pass the Seven Trials of Rostam. It's true that "I made him Rostam of the story, but he was a hero in sistan" He is a child of sistan; he is a big deal in his own right. It's true that we made him great.

"From that smoke, a fire shall suddenly strike the greatest dome.

The sky shall split at that moment, neither a mystical term shall remain, nor place."

So neither place nor 'Be' remains. Meaning nothing remains. So whether you read a prayer, don't read a prayer, talk, don't talk, pray, don't pray, place a vulgar term, used here for shock and place are up in the air, my dear. Prayer is the production of vibrations that are being created in your mental space for reaching, and without finding the Complete Human, all that bending and straightening will only give you a slipped disc. I am telling you as a doctor, when you bend and straighten, you get a slipped disc.

But if a child is being produced, the mother also gets a slipped disc, and she has a child. But because the Complete Human mother is waiting to see that beautiful one, she says, 'It's okay.' In Sufism, it says, 'It's okay, you'll see.' The mother's belly is big, her belly is heavy, and her back hurts. This worship of the mother is logical. Why? Because she is producing a child for the world; she is giving a being that will think again. Now, if all other women tie a rock to their belly and walk around every night, we say they are mentally ill, by God, they are mentally ill. Ladies, why have you all tied rocks to your bellies? They say, 'We want our children to be as if they are in our womb.' I say, you don't have a child, you are not pregnant?

So, the pregnant woman who has back pain is logical, why? Because she is waiting to see the beautiful child in her womb.

To see the Complete Human, you must do what he tells you. How do you know which prayer? Which churches? Which synagogues? What he tells you! Get pregnant. How do we get pregnant, Mr. Hosseini? You must cry. Beat ourselves on the head. Now I'm joking when I say cry. We should want that beautiful one. Find that beautiful one. Only when we find that beautiful one does the pregnancy begin.

Now, if you want to tie a rock around your waist and pretend to be pregnant, go ahead. It has nothing to do with me!

Here, only pregnant women are told if the baby is a boy or a girl. If you tie a rock, there is no baby to be a boy or a girl.

Our time is up. If these poems are to finish...

Because every couplet we go through, we are gradually interpreting this poem. And that other poem, the important part of which I know, we are doing both in parallel so that we understand. So we are explaining the world of matter and the celestial kingdom until we get to see what is the realm of power. Let's see where Jesus was.

So we understand where Zoroaster was, so you don't consider yourself a Zoroastrian. Don't consider yourself a Muslim child. My dear. Let's know who they are, what they are, where they are in the story. Then you won't even talk; you'll just fall to the ground and cry. You fall at Jesus's feet and say, 'Forgive me,' and you tell him, 'Jesus, if you were in that time, we would all have betrayed you. We are all Judases, no joke.'

If you see yourself as Peter, you are up in the air. We are all Judases.

I entrust you to a Jesus who even forgave Judas, to a Jesus whose love saved even Judas. Judas threw his money into the rivers. He cried and said, 'I made a mistake, forgive me.' And Jesus said, 'My Father taught me, My Father means the Complete Human. I also reached this rank of Sufism and Mysticism in three days. Jesus said, 'I am the only being, the only one, who reached this rank of Sufism and Mysticism in three days.' He forgave me, and I will forgive you too. Judas kept crying until he died, but of course, Jesus saved him too. I entrust you to the God of Jesus, meaning the Complete Human, and to the God of Jesus's God, meaning Hu. Farewell."
